The aim of the channel will be animals. I'd like to upload videos about different animals where I'll be talking about: where do they like, what do they eat. The channel will be designed for people that like animals. The previews will have pictures of animals I'm going to talk about in the video. The banner will have the name of the channel with some animals in the background. The profile picture is going to be a face of some cute dog or a cat because people like them very much. The name of the channel will be "Interesting animals". One of the ways to attract a lot of viewers is to tell your friends about your channel. Other way to attract viewers will be the cute animal on the profile picture. That's all I wanted to tell about my idea for a Youtube channel.
